Editorial

Williamsburg High School offers a good balance of educational and extracurricular interests. The student at Williamsburg is offered an excellent educational preparation for life. The small enrollment of the school enables each student to study in an intimate educational climate, for Williamsburg High School places much importance on personal contact between student and teacher. Each student at Williamsburg is, above all, an individual.

The diversified activities in which students may participate make the school unique for its size. The extracurricular program offers everything from debating to golf. A feeling of "school spirit" contributes to the atmosphere of the school. This feeling of loyalty to the school is shown by participation in school events, such as the Student Council carwash, and vigorous support of school athletic teams. An outsider would be conscious of a strong feeling of school loyalty if he were to attend a basketball game and hear the students cheering, loudly when victorious, more quietly when the game is lost. Pride in the school and in our accomplishments is an important factor in unifying Williamsburg High School.

Dedication

A concerned person is rare. Rarer still is a man who has the capacity and the determination to concern himself with the ultimate welfare of his fellow men. We are dedicating our yearbook to a person who has never been too busy or too aloof to listen, to encourage, and to understand, a person who has tried to focus our minds on the true meaning of life, rather than its trivial aspects.

Students admire and strive to emulate a person who is not tied to his textbook. In the classroom this man refused to restrict himself to any curriculum. He is a teacher in the purest sense of the word, because he set as his goal the enlightenment of each of his pupils.

If it is true that the real teacher is, at heart, an eternally inquisitive student, then this man qualifies. His refreshing candor and selfless devotion to his work has impressed each of us in a very personal way. With great admiration and deep appreciation we, the Class of 1967, dedicate our yearbook to Mr. Herbert Montebello.

THE STUDENTS

for Successful Life after Graduation

The curriculum at Williamsburg High School is divided into three parts. Students may pursue a college course, a general course, or a business course. All students study English, but there the similarity ends. The college course offers preparation in academic subjects for the individual who intends to further his education in a two or four-year college. Courses in science, college preparatory mathematics, foreign languages, and history provide the college-bound individual with a strong foundation for continued study.

The general course provides a good education for the individual who is not interested in going on to college and does not aspire to a business career. Subjects such as general mathematics, world history, and economic geography give the student a general knowledge of the world around him.

The business course is designed to provide students with knowledge and skills necessary to obtain clerical positions in business or government offices. Typing, bookkeeping, and general business classes are balanced by courses in business law, economics, and problems of democracy to provide the commercial student with a well-rounded education.

There are several highlights in the business curriculum. This year the business law class created a life-like court case and held a mock trial. Through this practical application of the principles learned in class, business law became much more meaningful to the students. Each year the problems of democracy class fills out practice income-tax forms to prepare for life as tax-paying citizens.

The curriculum at Williamsburg offers courses to suit the needs of each individual, and the faculty places great emphasis on adequately preparing each student for a successful life after graduation.

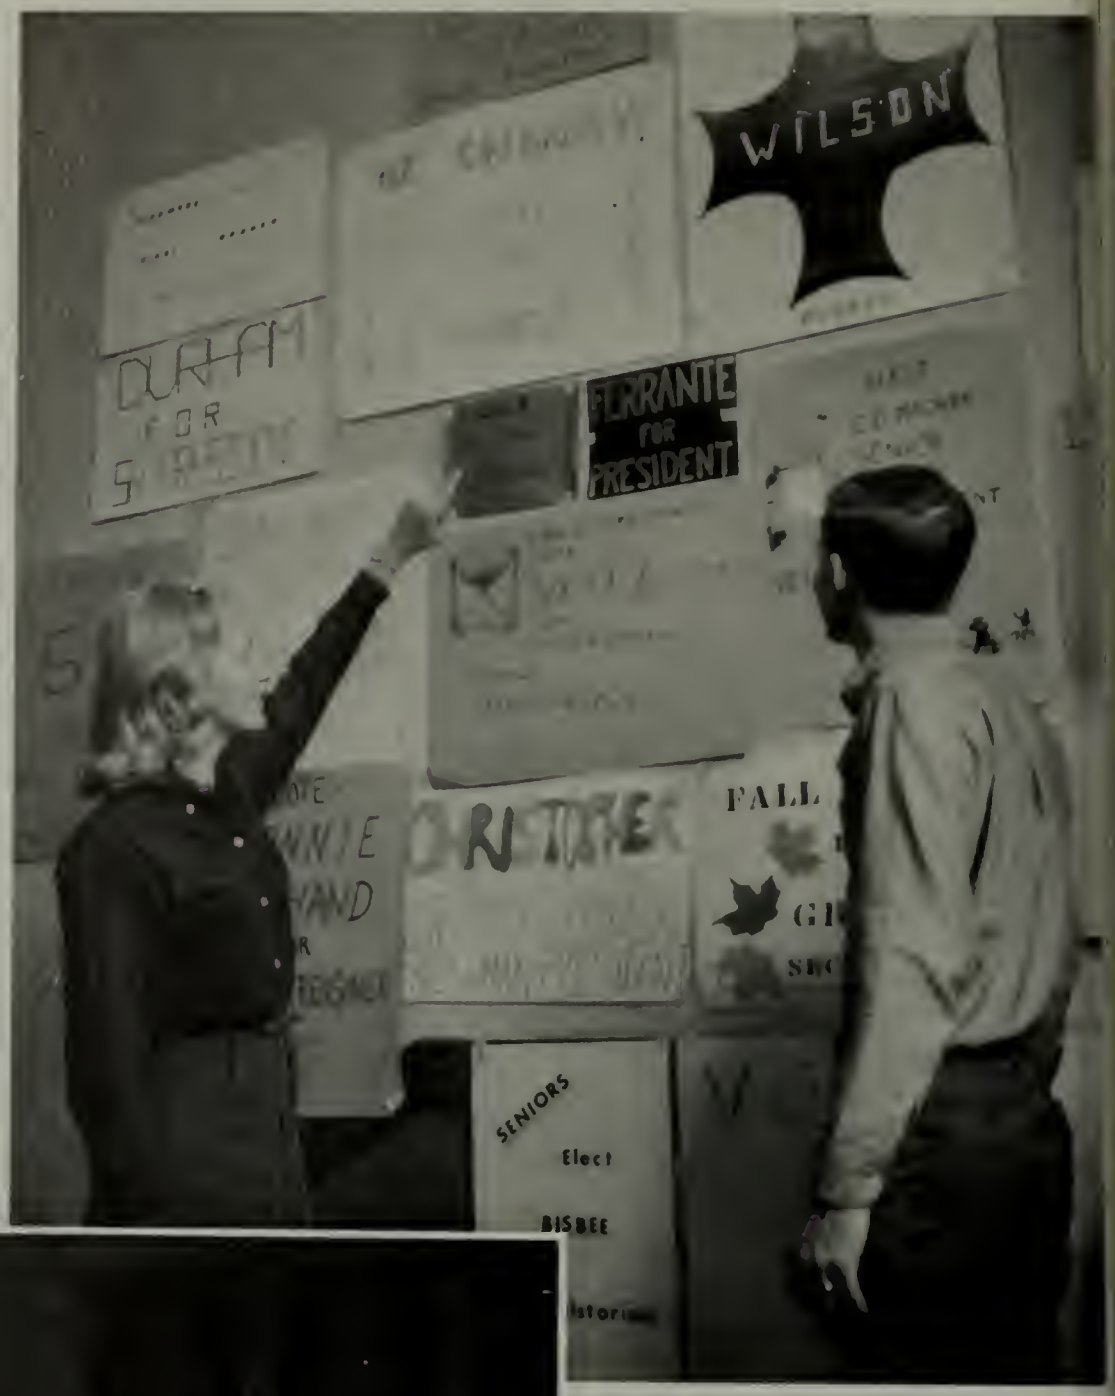
The Students As Participants



Participation in school activities is an important part of a student's education.

Freshmen Pay Seniors Due Respect

The year wouldn't be complete without the traditional Freshman Initiation. After attending classes for half a day in an assortment of weird costumes, the freshmen must suffer the humility of attending the Freshman Reception Dance. This year's entertainment was quite amusing. The audience was treated to a very original ballet executed by a lithe freshmen boy, and a charming rendition of "I'm a Little Teapot". There were several other stunts devised by the ingenious seniors, among these a relay race, won by the freshman who could roll limburger cheese with his nose the fastest, and a blindfolded jello-eating contest. The evening ended with a dance.

The Student Guides, Library Aides, and Audio-visual Aides make up the service groups at Williamsburg High School. These groups are frequently overlooked, even though their jobs are not only useful, but also essential to the proper functioning of our school.

The Library Aides consist of students who devote every Wednesday to keeping the library in order. They perform such tasks as making overdue book lists, entering books and magazines, keeping the shelves straightened, and moving books to provide more space. Without their help, maintaining an efficient library available for the whole student body would be much more difficult.

The Student Guides form a group of thirteen junior and senior boys stationed in the halls of the high school between class periods. Here they direct traffic and deal with any problems which might arise involving student behavior. The guides are also on duty in the Anne T. Dumphy School at lunch and at assemblies to eliminate traffic jams in the halls. Although Mr. Tonet is in charge of the group, the student guides actually carry out their duties independently--a good example of student responsibility.

The Audio-visual Aides also work independently, although Mr. Knight meets with the group in the fall to train new members or introduce new equipment. The aides are available throughout the school year to run any of the nine pieces of equipment which the school owns, including two movie projectors, two film strip projectors, two record players, a tape recorder, an overhead projector, and an opaque projector. Also, the aides are trained in the use of the Polaroid camera. The Audio-visual Aides play an obviously important part in school life.

Each member of these three groups which serve the student body during the school year ought to be congratulated for contributing much time and energy, with no other reward than the personal satisfaction of a job well done.

Junior Prom Is Well Attended

Would you believe a purple castle?

The queen is crowned.

"Camelot" was the theme of our Junior Prom. After weeks of hard work, the decoration committee transformed the gymnasium into a medieval castle, complete with a moat and drawbridge. Colorful battle shields and two lovely damsels in medieval dress added atmosphere. The crowning of the queen was an eagerly awaited event. Barbara Turner was chosen to reign, having in her court Mary Ann Mocheski, Lynn Tornow, Jane Parsons, and Dorothy Sylvester.

Latin Students Hold Roman Banquet

Who will mix the drinks?

Modern Romans await refreshments.

The Latin Banquet of 1966 was held last spring with all the splendor of ancient Rome. The feast was dedicated to Apollo, the god of the sun. The evening was started with a sumptuous meal of assorted meats, fruits, and vegetables. After this, the king, Alan Golash, and the queen, Connie Sarafin, were crowned. Then, with Paul Howes, the master of ceremonies, presiding, the bloody gladiator fights and chariot races were staged by the freshman students.

Paul gives the roll call.

Basketball Players and Cheerleader

The participation of the basketball players and cheerleaders typifies the spirit which keeps our school alive. The boys on the basketball team learn good sportsmanship as well as good basketball techniques during the long hours of after-school practice. The cheerleaders also devote much of their own time after school to learn the cheers, jumps, and pompon routines which have become so much a part of our basketball games. The hard work of the players and cheerleaders does not go unappreciated, however, for there is a keen interest in basketball in Williamsburg and surrounding towns. The Bantams enjoy the enthusiastic support of the adult community as well as the student body.

One of the most outstanding participants in our school is William Graves. Graves, captain of the varsity basketball team, reached the one thousand point goal sought by high school athletes who participate in basketball. Graves is the third player in the history of the school to reach this goal. He was given the ball with which he scored the one-thousandth point. He will also receive a plaque in honor of his achievement.

Dramatics Club Presents "Christopher Bean"

Work and cooperation between both students and teachers led to a fine presentation of THE LATE CHRISTOPHER BEAN, by Sidney Howard. Assisted by Mrs. Gervais, Mrs. Halberstadt directed this comedy. She also advised the Props Committee and the Make-up Committee, both of whom did a wonderful job. Aided by her committee, Mrs. Curtis found costumes of the 1930's. making the play seem very realistic. Mrs. Bart was in charge of publicity. Even though the committees are essential, the production would have been nothing without the cast, who braved the staring faces of the audience and actually made the play a good one.

Basketball Banquet Honors Players and Cheerleaders

Ahmed Sofi received an autographed basketball to take back to Morocco with him.

On April 8, 1967, the seventeenth annual Basketball Banquet was held in the Anne T. Dunphy cafeteria. Teachers, parents, friends, and players all enjoyed a wonderful meal. After the meal everyone laughed through the presentation of "gag" gifts by the boys and girls basketball teams to each other, and then enjoyed the presentation of trophies and awards.

Marilyn Menard, Sylvia Culver, Margaret Clark, Carla Swanda, Gloria Rapalee, Barbara Kajka, and Judith Banister, senior basketball players, were awarded trophies, and senior manager, Kathleen Bisbee received a plaque.

Senior boys honored this year were Richard Hillenbrand, Wayne Beebe, Ahmed Sofi, and Michael Eaton. Richard Hillenbrand and Robert Wilson were awarded plaques for placing first and second respectively in the foul shooting playoff, and Richard Hillenbrand will also have his name inscribed on the W. Malcolm Heath Memorial Plaque for having the best foul shooting average during the season. For the first time, senior cheerleaders were awarded trophies. Receiving cheering trophies were Kate Frost, Barbara Turner, and Lynda Childs. Connie Sarafin was named captain of next year's cheering squad.

Coach Tonet didn't quite know what to do with his flowered earplugs.

The Students in Organizations

Organizations play an important part in our school, from enforcing a student dress code to encouraging scholarship in others.

Student Council Initiates Many Changes

Interested students examine new rules brought about by Student Council action.

The Student Council serves as a vital link between the student body and the faculty. This year's council has been particularly successful in providing the communication necessary to form this link. Students are now well-informed of council activities because the minutes of all meetings are posted on the bulletin boards. Student suggestions have precipitated many innovations in school policy. This year's council presented to the administration a new, more liberal dress code. The Student Council made it possible for hunters with their parents' permission to have one day off from school during deer season. Accomplishments such as these characterize the 1966-1967 Student Council.

Foreign Aid Program Is Debate Topic

STANDING: Cynthia Davidson, Gilbert Christopher, Herber Hale, Curtis Mercier. SEATED: Betsy Feiker, James Edwards, Edward Parsons, Jonathan Montague.

Debater Cindy Davidson examines material on this year's debate topic.

The Debate Team, under the direction of Mr. Herbert Montebello, has taken part in several debate tournaments this year. With six novice debaters and only two varsity, the team is slightly hampered by inexperience. However, the members have done a great deal of research to prepare themselves to debate this year's topic: Resolved: That the foreign aid program of the United States should be limited to non-military assistance.

National Honor Society Seeks To Promote Scholarship

SEATED: Kathleen Bisbee, Linda Munson, Curtis Mercier, Cory Stout, Judith Banister, and Rebecca Ells. STANDING: Marsha Skwira, Gloria Rapalee, Lucille Russell, Kathleen Frost.

The Williamsburg Chapter of the National Honor Society was organized in 1965. The object of this society is to create an enthusiasm for scholarship, to stimulate a desire to render service, to promote worthy leadership, and to encourage the development of character in all students of Williamsburg High School. Membership in the Chapter is based upon Scholarship, Service, Leadership, and Character. A student is selected to become a member of the National Honor Society in his junior year if he has achieved an average of eighty-five or better after two and one-half years and if he has displayed the other three qualities. Membership is provisional; the student must maintain an eighty-five average. This year's society is planning its second book sale. The proceeds will be used to present a scholarship to a deserving senior at graduation.

Glee Club Presents H.M.S. PINAFORE

Last year under a new music instructor, Mrs. Roberta Cowell, the Glee Club was reorganized into the after school chorus. The music group, which had previously met during school time for a regular period on Friday, now meets twice a week for an hour and a half after school. The chorus is made up of about forty members who meet to enjoy themselves and perform to entertain others. The group has sung at various assemblies, for the Mother's Club, and at senior graduation. But their major endeavor was to perform the Gilbert and Sullivan operetta, H.M.S. PINAFORE. This libretto, consisting of two acts, is not only a love story, but also a spoof on the British Navy. As in most Gilbert and Sullivan operettas, true love finds a way, and all live "happily ever after." The main characters were portrayed by Hans Weit, Cynthia Davidson, Edward Parsons, Joanne Cumm, Michael Harry, Brian Rapalee, Judy Connell, Timothy Daggett, and Paul Howes.

Tattler and Press Club Members Work Diligentl

Deadlines must be met.

Students devote much time to the Tattler.

Michael Eaton keeps up on school news.

Many students read and enjoy the Tattler, but few of them actually understand the methods used in putting it together. Because of the limited budget with which the staff works, most of the pictures used in the yearbook are taken by the student photographers. Students donate their own time to write articles for the various divisions of the book. The articles are then proofread. During study halls, members of the staff plan the page layouts, using the articles and pictures. Multiples of eight of these sheets have to be sent to the printer by certain dates. To the staff, it seems that everything falls due all of a sudden, and there is much chaos in the Tattler office on the day before a deadline. However, with the help and guidance of the advisor, Mrs. Marie Packard, all work is completed and deadlines are met.

The Press Club serves a very important purpose at Williamsburg High School. This literary group, led by Mrs. Marjorie McKusick, is responsible for the school news columns which appear in the DAILY HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE. All class secretaries and other interested students are assigned to cover important school functions, and Press Club members take turns combining these stories into interesting newspaper articles. Through the efforts of this organization, communication is maintained between the school and surrounding communities.

Throughout the School Year

Members of the Press Club are Donald Gray, Herbert Hale, Susan Sylvester, Sylvia Culver, Joanne Lawler, and Paula Pavelcysk.

Varsity Girls End Season with 13–2 Record

The 1966-67 girls basketball team under Coach Evelyn Kmit ended the season with a fabulous record of thirteen wins and two losses. Speed, height, teamwork, and good coaching proved to be the greatest assets to this year's team, as was shown in games against our most difficult rivals, St. Michael's and Amherst.

For a second year the Burgy girls were invited to participate in the Western Massachusetts Girls Tournament. The first game was a victory against Smith Academy whom they had already played during the season. The team went into the semi-finals against Pioneer, but was defeated in a well-played game.

This year graduation will take seven players: four forwards, Marilyn Menard, Peggy Clark, Carla Swanda, and Gloria Rapalee; and three guards, Sylvia Culver, Barbara Kajka, and Judith Banister. With their experience the juniors should do well in next year's season.

This year the girls' Junior Varsity basketball team, with Mrs. Evelyn Kmit coaching, enjoyed a very successful season, winning ten games and losing only one.

The freshmen and sophomores did an excellent job, exhibiting keen competition, good teamwork and sportsmanship. Having junior high girls playing to gain experience proves a valuable asset to subsequent teams. Since they demonstrated enough skill this year to keep up with the older girls, we are confident that in the next few years they will be very valuable to our team.

Cross Country Team Enj

The cross country team enjoyed its best season since 1961 despite a rather poor start finishing with a 7-3 overall mark. In league competition a 5-3 record resulted in a third place tie with Holyoke in the Northern Division. After winning an independent meet at Belchertown 19-44, the team lost three successive meets to the strongest teams in the Northern Division before shutting out Frontier Regional. The team then went on to win six dual meets in a row, including another shoutout over Belchertown and a rewarding 21-37 victory over arch-rival Northampton. Those two shoutouts wer the first in cross country history at Williamsburg High School.

In the Western Massachusetts Regional Meet at the University of Massachusetts, Burg took some sting out of its early season defeats, finishing in a third place tie with Turr ers Falls, the best showing for Burgy in the four year history of the meet. Warren Messeck and Bill Graves both won silver medals for the second year in a row, and placed third and seventeenth respectively.

For the first time in school history an athletic team participated in state competition as Warren Messeck and Bill Graves placed sixth and forty-seventh respectively in a field of 188 runners in Class E in the State Cross Country meet in Boston. It is hoped that continued interest and improvement will allow the entire team to participate in this meet.

Consistant point winners in dual meet competition were Warren Messeck, who was 9- individually for the season, Bill Graves, Dave Graves, Jim Taylor, and Pete Gorham. Only Bill Graves and Ahmed Sofi of Morocco won't be returning next year, which gives the team an excellent outlook for 1967 provided that the anticipated improvement of the JV squad becomes a reality.

The team relaxes after an exciting meet.

Science Club and Glee Club Provide Opportunities for Enrichment

Members of the Science Club are Paula Pavelcsyk, William Brown, Gilbert Christopher, James Brisbois, Judy Connell, and Brian Rapalee.

The Science Club was reorganized this year under the direction of Mr. George Munroe and Mr. James Choate, faculty advisors. The club offers opportunities for further study and research in the field of science for interested students. Members working on individual projects receive qualified advice and are allowed to use all laboratory facilities. Science films and field trips are also offered. On the agenda is a field trip to the Yankee Atomic Plant in Rowe, Massachusetts. Tentatively scheduled are trips to Pro-phy-lac-tic Brush Company in Florence, Massachusetts, or to Stanley Home Products in Easthampton, Massachusetts.

The Glee Club gives students with an interest in music the chance to take part in group singing. Under the direction of Mrs. Roberta Cowell, this choral group entertains the student body at many assemblies, leads the carol singing at the Christmas assembly, and provides the music at graduation.

Model Congress delegates are Gilbert Christopher, Cynthia Davidson, Betsy Feiker, and James Edwards.

Each year several students are given the opportunity to learn more about their government as delegates to the annual Model Congress or as a Student Government Day representative. The Twenty-seventh Annual Model Congress was held at American International College at Springfield on March 31 and April 1, 1967. The Model Congress is designed to simulate conditions as they exist in American legislature. The students attending submit their bills, discuss and amend them in legislative committees, and later debate them on the floors of the Senate and House of Representatives where a final vote is taken. The Williamsburgh High School delegates this year are Cynthia Davidson, James Edwards, Betsy Feiker, and Gilbert Christopher. These delegates probed the efficiency of all the government spending committees now in operation. At the Model Congress, the delegates introduced a bill to establish a committee to eliminate unnecessary federal spending, thus preventing any deficit increase in government spending.

Student Government Day representative is Curtis Mercier.

Curtis Mercier was selected by Principal Paul R. Knight to represent Williamsburg High School at the Twentieth Annual Student Government Day held on April 7, 1967. The representatives conduct proceedings in the same manner as the General Court. Names are drawn from the Governor's Glass Bowl to select Massachusett's executives such as Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Attorney General, Senators, Representatives, and various legislative committees. These committees hear proposed bills in the morning, prior to afternoon debate in the House and Senate Sessions.

Win Recognition

Judy Banister is winner of the Betty Crocker Award.

Two awards are given each year to outstanding senior girls at Williamsburgh High School. One of these is for proficiency in homemaking--the Betty Crocker Award; the other is for excellence in citizenship--the D.A.R. Good Citizenship Award. On December 6, 1966, senior girls at Williamsburgh High School took an examination as part of General Mills' Betty Crocker Search for Scholarship program. This test probes the basic domestic skills and academic achievement of these girls. By administering this test, General Mills seeks to give young women a deeper appreciation and understanding of the American home. Judy Banister, as high scorer in the test, becomes Williamsburg High School's Homemaker of Tomorrow, and receives a charm to signify her achievement.

The D.A.R. Good Citizenship Award is presented to a senior girl of outstanding character. The senior students first select by vote three girls who exhibit salient traits of dependability, service, leadership, and patriotism. From these three girls the high school faculty selects one who becomes Good Citizen for her school. This year's Good Citizen is Rebecca Ells.

D. A. R. Good Citizen is Rebecca Ells.

Faculty Sees Many Changes

This year at Williamsburg High School has been a very unusual one because of the many changes that were made in the faculty.

Mr. Reddington, who had been our superintendant for the past ten years, left, and Mr. Buss, our principal for the last four years, was promoted to Mr. Reddington's previous office. As a favor to the school and the town of Williamsburg, Mr. Tonet acted as principal until the school committee could appoint a permanent principal.

In the first part of November, Mr. Knight, a former member of the mathematics department, was appointed principal. Mr. Tonet then went back to his coaching and teaching. Both faculty and students are to be commended for their effort in keeping things running smoothly during this period.
